

Concussion Of Atomic Bomb Felt 250 Miles; Flash Is Brighter Than The Sun

Report Japan Given 48 Hrs. To Surrender Or Be Blown Into Oblivion

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Washington, Aug. 7.—Tokyo or one of Japan's other great war industry cities is believed here today to be next on the list for atomic bomb destruction.

This is the view of officials trying to evaluate the possible effects of the terrifying new weapon—both on bringing this war to an early end and on shaping the world of tomorrow.

From what has been announced publicly by President Truman and other American and British officials it is clear that old ideas of national defense and security—based even on weapons as modern as the rockets Hitler used against London—are due to undergo radical changes.

48-Hour Ultimatum
The Daily Mail, in a Washington dispatch, quoted "reliable sources" in the U. S. capital as saying the Allies would serve Japan another ultimatum threatening to bomb her into oblivion with the new weapon unless she surrendered unconditionally. The ultimatum would carry a 48-hour time limit, the Mail said.

In its impact on peaceful pursuits, the newly harnessed energy still is some years from practical use, according to official reports, but it may revolutionize industry and trade of the future.

Evidently with this in mind, President Truman made clear in his announcement of the new bomb yesterday that the development of atomic power in this country is to be kept under tight government control.

Size Is Not Known
The President and Secretary of War Stimson gave little detail of the new weapon except that the size of the explosive is exceedingly small.

A London commentator reported that the bomb is only one-tenth the size of the block-buster, although some observers here believe it may be heavy and bulky because of the apparatus needed to touch off the charge.

The official statements gave little technical information on the bomb or the sources of its destructive power, other than a revelation by Stimson that the mineral uranium is one of the chief elements. The supply of uranium now being used to produce the bombs for Japan comes from Canada. The other great known world source is the Belgian Congo in Africa.

How the uranium is prepared and "canned" in the bomb and how it is detonated are points which remain secret. But something is known of the explosive effects. Scientists and army officers made a test in the desert near Alamogordo, N. M., early on July 16.

Felt 250 Miles
When the bomb went off there was a blinding flash of light, brighter than the sun, a great billow of multi-colored gases soared 40,000 feet. When the experimenters visited the scene of the blast they found the earth torn into a huge crater. The steel tower on which the bomb had rested had been vaporized.

Forest Rangers 150 miles away thought there had been an earthquake and persons 250 miles distant reported their windows rattled with the spreading concussion.

Dr. E. Slade, British scientist who helped develop the new weapon, said that while it appears to have done (Please Turn to Page 4)

MISS CRABILL, PVT. SCHWARTZ WED ON MONDAY

In a candlelight ceremony at St. James Lutheran church Monday evening, Miss Pauline Snarr Crabill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Crabill, Gettysburg R. 4, became the bride of Pvt. Fred Dennis Schwartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Schwartz, Gettysburg R. 1.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, of the Lutheran Theological seminary, in the presence of the immediate families and a large number of friends.

A 15-minute organ recital was presented before the ceremony by Miss Jeanne Spangler. Miss Connie Helges sang "At Dawning" and "O Perfect Love." The traditional wedding marches were played for the professional and recreational.

The church was decorated with palms and garden flowers.

(See roster of Officers and Guests on Page Three).

Major General Philip Hayes, Commanding General of the Third Service Command, with headquarters at Baltimore, heads a delegation of more than fifty officers from Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia to Gettysburg today for a two-day conference.

It is the Eleventh Monthly Conference of Commanding Generals and Commanders of the principal Posts, Camps and Stations of the Third Service Command.

With General Hayes will be members of his headquarters staff including: Brigadier General T. B. Catron, Chief of Staff; Colonel J. B. Hunt, Deputy Chief of Staff; Colonel F. P. Strome, Svc surgeon and others.

Expect WAC Director

Other distinguished visitors here for the conference are: Colonel Westray Battle Boyce, new director of the Women's Army Corps, Washington, who recently assumed that post; Lt. Col. Kathrine R. Goodwin, Army Service Forces, WAC, Staff Director; and Brigadier General Earl McFarland (ret.) of the Staunton Military Academy and Lt. Col. Florence K. Murray, Third Service Command, WAC, Staff Director.

The officers were due here in time to register at 3 o'clock at Glatfelter Hall, on the college campus.

The officers and guests will be housed in fraternity houses on and off the campus. They will be served their meals in Huber Hall and Brua Chapel will be used as a conference room.

Included on the program are a visit to the National Museum where the officers will hear a lecture on the three days' Battle of Gettysburg and view the movement of troops here on the electrical map, a get-together at the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity house on Carlisle street this evening at 6 o'clock; entertainment at Brua Chapel this evening; tour of the Battlefield Wednesday morning and a G.I. luncheon at Spangler's Spring Wednesday noon.

OLD COVERED BRIDGE IS TOO WEAK FOR USE

One of Adams county's oldest and longest covered bridges (although the roof has recently been blown off) will be replaced with a modern span as soon as the War Production Board grants a priority of steel to the Pennsylvania Highway Department for the new structure. The estimated cost is in excess of $10,000.

In the meanwhile traffic in the area of the present span has been re-routed over a 4.80-mile detour. Highway Secretary John U. Shroyer announced today.

The old covered bridge which crosses Rock Creek near Barlow is reported by Adams County Superintendent of Maintenance J. William Kendelhart to be unfit for traffic. Recent heavy rains caused high water which weakened the structure to such an extent that it is not safe to be used.

Built In 1860

The span was built about 1860 according to Mr. Kendelhart and is about 180 feet long. The roof was blown off some time ago and the understructure weakened during recent years to such an extent that it is feared an accident may result if traffic is permitted across the bridge.

Mr. Kendelhart said the state is ready to build a new span but under war-time restrictions on construction the new bridge cannot be built without a priority on steel because the structure will cost more than $10,000, the limit of bridge constructions without WPB approval and priority.

As soon as the steel is made available a new bridge will be built.

The detour is via traffic route 134 to north of Barlow, thence on rural route 01003 to the intersection of rural route 01006.

Polio Victim Is Unchanged Today

The condition of Fred Gable, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gable, New Oxford, first victim of infantile paralysis in this county this year, was reported to be "about the same" at the Hanover hospital this afternoon. There has been no spread of the paralysis which had affected the boy's left arm when he was admitted to the hospital Saturday evening.

The boy was taken ill last Wednesday and the case was diagnosed Saturday.

Health authorities have urged parents throughout the county to observe precautionary measures to make unnecessary the strict regulations imposed last year when cases increased here.

PROPERTY SOLD

A deed recorded at the court house discloses the sale of three tracts of land in Reading township including more than four acres by Albert L. and Lillie Thomas, Reading township, to Mervin J. and Flora H. Shaffer, Miami, Fla.

Borough Employees Will Hold Picnic

Gettysburg borough employees will picnic at Bream's dam some evening this week with councilmen and other borough officials as special guests and with the three members of the borough highway committee as hosts.

The employees sent a request to council Monday evening through President H. M. Oyler asking that council give them a picnic "with beer and hot dogs" and specified Bream's dam as the place for the outing.

A councilman suggested that the highway committee under whose direction most of the employees work most of the time should foot the bill. So L. D. Shearer and J. D. Kendelhart, both members of the highway committee, made and seconded a motion that their committee "foot the bills." Harry E. Koch, another member of the committee, was not present.

Council made it clear that town funds will not be used for the frolic and then several members promised they would "chip in" on the host committee's expenses.

COUNCIL ASKS FOR PARKING METERS' BIDS

The borough council took quick, unanimous action Monday evening toward the installation of parking meters in the town's business section.

Apparently agreed that meters provide the solution for the town's parking problems and without taking a direct vote on the question of whether the meters shall be installed, the councilmen voted unanimously to have the borough secretary advertise for bids "for 200 parking meters more or less."

The bids will be opened at a special meeting Monday evening, August 27, at 8 o'clock when meter companies will be invited to have representatives here to explain the merits of their respective machines.

Decision on the actual purchase of the meters may then be delayed a week until the regular September meeting of council.

The attitude of councilmen Monday evening on parking meters was: "We're all in favor of them, so the quicker we can get them the better."

May Place 171 Meters

One councilman said he had been told by a parking meter company representative that the meters can be here "within 90 days."

Although the bid names 200 as the approximate number of meters, President H. M. Oyler said the actual number probably will be closer to 170 on the basis of a map Chief of Police Glenn Guise has prepared listing positions for 171 meters in center square, the first two blocks of Baltimore street and the first block of York, Chambersburg and Carlisle streets.

Council expects bids on both single and multiple coin meters and Councilman Vernon Corle urged members of the borough body to visit nearby towns and cities this month to inspect the types of meters in use there and to learn the advantages of each type.

Bidders for the parking meter contract will be required to post a $1,000 compliance bond, council decided.

The subject of meters was brought up early in the council session by J. Price Oyler, a former councilman. (Please Turn to Page 4)

Hanover Milk Truck Upsets; $225 Damage

A Lonce dairy truck from Hanover skidded Monday morning on the Hanover-Littlestown highway during a heavy rain and overturned at the side of the road damaging the truck to the extent of about $200 and causing loss of about $25 in milk and bottles.

The driver, Burnell J. Billman, 29, Hanover, said he braked upon approaching a farm tractor parked on the side of the highway and his truck skidded off the left side of the road. Billman, who received minor cuts of the face and hands, said he salvaged three of 16 cases of bottled milk.

State police from Gettysburg investigated.

2 Given Discharges At Indiantown Gap

T/Sgt. Richard M. Kuhn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Kuhn, Cashtown, and T/5 Huston G. Simpson, Biglerville, were discharged from the Army at Indiantown Gap Sunday.

Pfc. Neil E. Kessel, New Oxford R. 2, arrived at Indiantown Monday for redeployment.

12 P. M. CURFEW ESTABLISHED BY LICENSEES HERE

Voluntarily establishing a midnight curfew to go into effect next Monday, Gettysburg's licensed establishments are spearheading what they hope will result in an anti-noise campaign in Gettysburg.

The action to voluntarily affect a midnight closing every night in the week was taken at a meeting of the licensees' organization at Hotel Gettysburg Monday evening. The meeting was attended by all local licensees who besides adopting a midnight curfew without a dissenting voice, voted unanimously to follow a program of self-regulation.

The midnight curfew to be adopted next Monday will govern hotel and restaurant licensees. Of the four club licensees, two already observe a midnight curfew, while the curfew policy of the remaining two will be decided at meetings of their respective house committees to be held within the next ten days.

Many Observed Curfew

It was noted at the meeting that several of the licensed establishments have long observed a midnight closing hour, despite the fact that the Pennsylvania liquor laws permit operation until 2 o'clock in the morning with the exception of Saturday nights when the closing hour is designated by law as midnight.

In announcing the voluntary midnight curfew, Henry M. Scharf, manager of Hotel Gettysburg, who is chairman of the licensees' organization, said:

"This is the first of several phases of a program of self-regulation that local licensees have adopted.

"Our group has been observing the increase in street noises in the late hours of the night and early morning and recognize these disturbances as being unfavorable to the reputation of the community in the eyes of visitors and certainly as something distressing to local people.

"That licensed establishments are in any way connected with these disturbances is an erroneous impression. Several weeks' investigation of the situation reveals the disturbances emanate principally from sources entirely unrelated to the operation or the patronage of licensed establishments in the borough.

"There is little demand for beverage service after midnight; certainly not enough to warrant late hour operation in the face of the shortage of supplies and (Please Turn to Page 2)

NAVAL OFFICER ASKS PEACETIME MILITARY DRILL

Editor's note:—Some time ago The Gettysburg Times published an article written by Cpl. G. Henry Roth (recently promoted) member of The Times' editorial staff on leave with the armed forces, opposing compulsory peacetime military training. Lt. (j.g.) Herman G. Hartman, USNR, on duty somewhere in the Pacific, comes forward with a reply favoring peacetime military training. His article follows.

By LT. (J.G.) H. G. HARTMAN

A clipping by G. Henry Roth from a recent edition of The Times reached me today. It's quite thought provoking, the more so as one reads it.

Private Roth expresses well his ideas, the ideas of one man on universal service or peacetime conscription. I'd like to do the same—express the ideas of one man.

You have, yourselves I think, hit the crux of the situation in the early part of the article: "General Eisenhower and General Marshall are in favor of the plan. Some members of Congress favor it. Some oppose it." Pfc. Roth opposes it.

Large Standing Army

The intention of the military is not to have all our men from 17-77 considered ready to march at the drop of a hat in Europe or Asia. I'm sure the real purpose is to maintain, for as long as necessary, a larger standing army than we were accustomed to pre-World War II. By having all eligible young men serve one year, the estimated required force will be in uniform and trained at any particular time, and the burden of service (and it is a burden) will be shared by all alike. Now if an emergency should arise, and this standing army is not large enough we may recall and retain any of (Please Turn to Page 5)

Legion District Meet Here Aug. 25

The twenty-second district convention, which for Legionnaires in York, Adams and Franklin counties will take the place of a state convention this year, will be held in Gettysburg, Saturday, August 25. It was announced Monday evening at the August meeting of the Albert J. Lentz post No. 202 of the American Legion. An afternoon session will be held at 3 o'clock and an evening meeting at 7:30 o'clock.

Commander Paul M. Rohrbaugh named Paul Spangler, a past commander as the new chairman of the house committee to succeed the late William H. Allison.

This committee was named to plan for local observance of Armistice Day: Lawrence M. Sheads, C. Arthur Brame and L. C. Keefeauver.

With the election of nine new members, the Lentz post membership total reached a new all-time peak of 343, Adjutant William H. Pensyl said.

VOTE INCREASE IN SALARY FOR LOCAL POLICE

Salary increases were voted to members of the borough police force and a Harrisburg engineering firm was employed to make a preliminary survey of the Tiber to guide future street improvement work there at the August meeting of borough council Monday evening.

Giving unanimous endorsement to the recommendation of the safety committee, council increased the salary of Chief of Police Glenn Guise from $2,100 to $2,400 and gave a $10 per month raise to the other regular members of the force, Charles W. Culp, Jr., and Clark W. Staley. Culp and Staley now receive $1,440 but will be paid $1,560 under the new rate.

The pay increases were effective as of August 1.

The decision to conduct the Tiber survey came after considerable discussion on the question of whether the town has the money available this year to make the survey. It was agreed that there is no money in the sewer committee's allotment for the work but Finance Chairman Ray M. Hoffman said if no unexpected expenses turn up for the rest of the year about $1,000 might be available from the "miscellaneous" section of the budget.

Contributes $125

On a voice vote there were no dissenters on the motion to have the firm of Gannett, Fleming, Corddry and Carpenter, Inc., of Harrisburg make the Tiber survey at a maximum cost of $850. Council accepted the offer of the Gettysburg Throwing company to pay up to $125 on the cost of the survey.

The engineering firm will survey the street from the borough line south of West High street to the Tiber's Water street crossing. A plan of present location of the run, adjacent walls and structures will be prepared and recommendations will be made on future alignment of these features. Present and proposed profiles of the stream bottom will be sketched and culvert and channel sections required for future improvements will be planned and changes in existing structures recommended. The firm also will prepare preliminary cost estimates on the stream improvement work.

Councilmen agreed there is no money available under this year's budget for stream improvement work that may be recommended in the engineers' report.

Speaking for the sewer committee, Councilman Vernon Corle recommended the survey "if the funds are available." He said he believed such a survey would have to be made before any effective long-range improvement program could be set up. He said that over a period of years council may have to spend "thousands of dollars" on the stream.

State funds of the Pennsylvania Postwar Planning Commission which are available to cover up to half the cost of preparation of plans for stream improvement work would not (Please Turn to Page 2)

VAGRANT JAILED

William Earl Rice, no address, was arrested Monday afternoon by Borough Officer Charles W. Culp on a vagrancy charge and lodged in the county jail. The information was filed before Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore.

Japanese Admit Destruction By Atomic Bomb Is "Considerable"

By The Associated Press

Guam, Aug. 7 — Iron censorship was clamped on details of the atom bombing of Hiroshima by the U. S. Strategic Air Forces today, but from the stunned enemy finally came admission that the terrific new weapon had done great damage.

A Japanese imperial communique broadcast by radio Tokyo hinted the Nipponese war lords were scurrying about, trying to determine what hit the Hiroshima army base.

While meager U. S. disclosures said one bomb hit with such devastating force that the city was hidden in a towering cloud of dust, the Japanese talked of new "bombs." Their use of the plural indicated the blast was so shattering they could not believe only one bomb had struck.

"Considerable" Destruction

The Nipponese communique said a number of B-29's made the attack with "considerable" destruction. The admission was typical of the Japanese habit of underestimating damage, because U. S. sources indicated the great cloud of dust that arose from Hiroshima might have contained vaporized buildings.

Several hours before the enemy communique was issued, the Osaka radio had given some suggestion of the extent of the damage when it made a matter of fact announcement that various trains in Hiroshima prefecture had been canceled.

The imperial headquarters communique was amplified later by a Domei News Agency dispatch quoting Tokyo "informed quarters" as saying that the bomb was parachuted and exploded before reaching the ground.

Called Inhuman

CRASH VICTIMS BETTER TODAY

Edwin Schlosser, Arendtsville, operator of one of the cars involved in the auto crash Sunday evening east of Abbottstown which resulted in the deaths of three persons, remains a patient in the Hanover hospital today where X-ray examinations showed he has a fracture of his right ankle.

Mrs. Schlosser escaped with a dislocated hip and numerous lacerations in the collision which took the lives of Mr. and Mrs. John Allison, Gettysburg R. 3, occupants of the Schlosser car, and Orville Leivant, 14, York.

The Hanover hospital said this afternoon that both Mr. and Mrs. Schlosser are "improved."

Plan Double Rites

One victim of the crash, Dorothy Dennis, 14, York, was discharged from the Hanover hospital Monday afternoon. The three other accident patients including Charles Sheaffer, 17, East Berlin, who had his right arm broken, also are improved today.

Double funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Allison will be held from the Allison funeral home, Fairfield, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by Chaplain (Major) George H. Berkeheimer and the Rev. A. R. Longenecker. Interment in Flohr's church cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

County Soldiers File Discharges

Two more ex-servicemen have placed honorable discharges on record at the court house.

T. Sgt. Richard M. Kuhn, Cashtown, wearer of the Bronze Star medal and the EAME ribbon with five battle stars, had his discharge recorded Monday afternoon. He entered service with the former National Guard February 17, 1941, and served as automotive repair shop foreman in an ordnance company. He was discharged August 5 at Indiantown Gap.

Pfc. Clifford J. Staley, Littlestown, who served as a firefighter with the Army Air Force, was discharged July 31 at Big Spring, Texas. He was inducted March 6, 1944.

RECEIVES MEDAL

Cpl. Clarence Cluck, son of Mrs. Grover Cluck, 114 West High street, has been awarded the good conduct medal. Cpl. Cluck, who is attached to the SHAEF Press Censorship Detachment, took part in the battle of central Germany.

Weather Forecast

Fair and moderately warmer tonight and Wednesday.

The dispatch warned the Japanese people that its destructive power "cannot be slighted." It repeated the communique's statement that more than one bomb had been used, declaring a "few" had been dropped.

Domei followed usual Japanese procedure in admitting only that houses, rather than military establishments were damaged. It termed the bomb tactics inhuman and said impatience at slow progress of invasion plans "drove the enemy" to its use.

Marianas-based B-29s today kept up the continual pounding of the enemy empire with a noonday 125-plane strike at the big Toyokawa naval arsenal, 37 miles southeast of Nagoya castle. Returning airmen said they bombed visually in good weather and results were "excellent." Their missiles were "high explosives." The 20th Air Force said—presumably not atomic bombs. Mustangs escorted the Superforts but found no air opposition.

The 20th Air Force communique today also reported a broad sweep across the Tokyo area yesterday by 97 Iwo-based Mustangs which smashed at nine enemy airfields, rail yards, and shipping, and destroyed or damaged 25 grounded aircraft.

Other Bombings

The Tokyo-Yokohama district was bombed and strafed about an hour this morning by 40 Iwo-based American Mustangs and "it is reported that several British planes of unspecified category" participated, Japan's Domei agency reported.

If confirmed, that would be the first attack on the Japanese homeland by land-based British aircraft. British carrier planes attacked Japan many times last month as part of Admiral Halsey's Third fleet. More than 400 Far East Air Forces fighters and bombers converted the Kyushu port of Tamaki into a vast swirl of flame Sunday with a two-hour hammering with firebombs, rockets and bullets. General MacArthur reported today. Pilots said the great fires were visible 30 miles.

Eyewitness reports of the historic blow struck at Hiroshima by the single, small atomic bomb were withheld pending their release by the War department in Washington. Witnesses of a test blast in New Mexico July 16, however, related that a steel tower was "vaporized" by the incredible blast—shock of which was felt for 250 miles.

Pocketbook Found But Is Minus $90

State police were asked to investigate the theft of $90 to $100 from the pocketbook of Mrs. Charles Bollinger, Chambersburg street, early Sunday morning at the Cross Keys inn where Mrs. Bollinger had gone with a party of friends. The theft was reported to police here Monday. The empty pocketbook was found outside the inn. It has not been determined whether the pocketbook was stolen from Mrs. Bollinger or lost by her and the money removed before the empty purse was tossed away by the finder.

NEW BOMB MAY BE RAINBOW OF WORLD ACCORD

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

That atomic bomb bids fair to be the one to end all bombs.

There are two ways of looking at this terrible new power. The happier view is that militaristic-minded nations no longer will dare make war and so expose themselves to annihilation. It may be that we stand on the threshold of an era of peace, ironically imposed on a mischievous world by fear of the most awful weapon ever devised.

That's one way of ending all bombs. But there's another and less comforting viewpoint. This was rather bluntly but succinctly expressed by an editor colleague of mine just after news of the atomic bomb broke.

"It makes me sick to my stomach to think of it," he said. "You wonder whether man isn't getting too damned smart, and won't destroy himself."

Well, of course, you can't discount that idea. Certainly the time has arrived when, if all countries don't agree to forsake armed aggression, nations will be liable to destruction almost overnight. In this connection we should remember that the secret of the bomb perhaps won't be secret long. The scientists of the world will ferret it out.

Rainbow Of Peace
The Germans all but had it when we overhauled them, and if they had succeeded in solving the problem, we folk of the United States and the other Allied nations today might be under Hitler's heel. President Truman himself has said that some protection against the bomb must be found before its secret is given to the world.

On the whole it seems logical to expect that the atomic bomb may be the rainbow of peace rather than the sign of global suicide. Surely the world has too much horse-sense to challenge such a power. Even a gangster gunman doesn't deliberately walk into machine-gun fire. We get encouragement for this view in Mr. Truman's statement:

"I shall give further consideration and make further recommendation to the Congress as to how atomic power can become a powerful and forceful influence towards world peace."

World peace is the greatest boon that the discovery can bring us, so far as we can judge now. But with peace assured, there apparently are unlimited benefits for mankind in what the President describes as "harnessing the basic power of the universe."

However, we still have a job of war to clear up before we can set the atomic bomb to policing the globe. And how is this amazing development likely to affect the Japanese imbroglio?

Seek Jap Reaction

To answer that we need to know the full Jap reaction to that first terrific atomic bomb. Thus far they have admitted cautiously its destructive power and say it did "considerable damage." Either they surrender forthwith (which any reasonable people would do) or, to use President Truman's language again, "they may expect a rain of ruin from the air the like of which has never been seen on earth."

But if the misguided men of Nippon prefer to fight it out, the new bomb promises the Allies an easier and much quicker end to the war. We are told that this bomb has an explosive force equal to the striking-power of a fleet of 2,000 B-29s, each carrying 10 tons of TNT. This means that huge sections of the Japanese mainland could be literally paralyzed within a few hours with the atomic bomb.

Thus by using these bombs or preliminary bombardment, Allied troops could be put ashore with ease. Indeed, judging from the advance notices of this atomic tornado, there should be no opposition to the initial landing at all.

In any event, without pushing our optimism too hard, we can assume that the complexion of the war has been completely altered and that the Allies are in position to call the turn pretty much as they wish.

Clan Holds Sixth Annual Reunion

Approximately 100 persons attended the sixth annual reunion of the descendants of the three daughters of Peter Mickley which was held Sunday at Newman's park.

Following a picnic lunch a program was given which included prayer by William Martin; welcome, Linda Lee Keller; reading, Miss Elinor Y. Geyer; address, Simon L. Downey; family history, Mrs. Edward A. Voorhes, and boys in service, Miss Anna Mae Rebert. Miss Rebert revealed there are more than 40 members of the clan in the armed forces.

The following officers were elected: President, George Downey, Hagerstown; vice presidents, William Martin, Hagerstown, and Robert Rebert, Cashtown; secretary, Gladys V. Rebert, McKnightstown, and treasurer, Janice H. Rebert, Orrtanna.

It was voted to hold next year's reunion at the Hagerstown city park.

VOTE INCREASE

be available for a preliminary survey, council decided.

Sidewalk Issue

An interested guest at the council meeting during the Tiber discussion was Glenn L. Bream who has frequently been before the borough fathers to urge flood control measures for the Tiber.

C. C. Reuning, West High street, came before council in connection with a notice sent him ordering sidewalk improvements on his property at West High and South Washington streets. He said he expects to lay the sidewalk but prefers to wait until war-time costs drop and until he can be on hand personally to direct the work. He also warned council to make sure of their authority before they proceed to build the walk and bill him for it.

Council, after a brief discussion, authorized the proper officials to lay the pavement under the terms of the notice given Mr. Reuning unless he complies within the 30-day limit given him. Councilmen said they have had many complaints about the sunken and uneven Reuning sidewalk and have often been asked by other property owners when the walk would be built.

The annual contract for chlorine from the Matheson Alkali Works was renewed for another year by council. The chlorine costs 7 1/2 cents per pound.

Can't Excuse Fee

Clyde D. Berger, a former councilman, came before the borough fathers to ask that council exonerate the Veterans of Foreign Wars from payment of a $90 license fee for the carnival they expect to bring here for a five-day stand the week of August 20. E. V. Bullett, Esq., borough solicitor, consulted the ordinance book and ruled council had no authority to excuse payment of the license fee.

A request from the Gettysburg airport for permission to erect directional signs in center square and on several streets directing motorists toward the airport was referred to the borough solicitor with the opinion being expressed that state highway department permission will be necessary.

In his monthly report Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner said that during the last month the disposal plant has been cleaned three times and that town workmen must be assigned at frequent intervals to weed and trim the center square plot. Peat moss to keep down weeds is unobtainable, he said. Much of the shrubbery there needs attention he said.

Finish Storm Sewer

Mr. Winebrenner also said the new storm sewer in the first block of Chambersburg street has been finished and debris has been cleaned from under Tiber bridges. Street patching is finished and surfacing work awaits proper weather conditions. Parking zone lines have been painted.

Council authorized its officers to execute a report being prepared by Mr. Winebrenner on street and alley mileage in Gettysburg for submission to the state as a preliminary to receiving specially earmarked state funds to be made available for street repairs.

A notice to repair the pavement on the Thomas Nixon property in the 200 block of North Washington street was ordered sent.

The monthly report of the burgess, Fred G. Pfeffer, showed total collections last month of $527.10 including $55 in fines, $17 in building permits and $455.70 from theatre tax.

Large Cash Balance

The report of Borough Treasurer John H. Basehor showed a big jump in the balance in the general fund with the deposit of the $20,691 check from the American Surety company on the H. H. Thomas tax shortage. Receipts also included $9,176 in current taxes from Collector J. Herbert Weikert.

Including these receipt items the general fund balance stood at $34,473 at the end of July after bills totaling $4,107 had been paid in that month. Treasurer Basehor observed that the borough is "not insolvent."

President Oyler presided at the session with Councilmen L. D. Shealer, George D. March, Ray M. Hoffman, Joseph D. Kendelhart and Vernon Corle; Burgess Pfeffer, Treasurer Basehor; the secretary, Mrs. Anna Drach; Engineer Winebrenner and Solicitor E. V. Bullett in attendance.

SHORTER WAR, CHEAP ENERGY IN NEW BOMB

Washington, Aug. 7 (AP)—Elated legislators today forecast that the atomic bomb would shorten the trail for revolutionary peacetime development of cheap energy.

President Truman's announcement that the world's most destructive missile has been dropped on Japan found members of the Senate Military and Appropriation Committees ready to act on White House bidding as soon as Congress reconvenes in October.

Mr. Truman suggested Congressional establishment of a commission to control the production and use of the atomic energy which gives the bomb its tremendous destructive power.

The fact that the bomb was being developed—one of the war's best-kept secrets—has been known to some Senators for more than two years.

Chairman Thomas (D. Utah) told a reporter the Military Committee will expedite legislation setting up the control commission so that it can be ready to make a swift transition from war to peace activities when the Pacific conflict ends.

While seeing the possibility that the bomb might shorten the war materially, Thomas said he could not guess whether it would eliminate the necessity for an invasion of Japan.

EXPECT TRUMAN ON WEDNESDAY

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Aboard USS Augusta with President Truman, Aug. 7 (AP)—President Truman, confident the new atomic bomb will shorten the war against Japan, today neared the shore of his own country which he left one month ago.

The President expects to be back in Washington by tomorrow and soon thereafter will fix a time for his radio report on the Berlin Big-Three meeting.

Obviously eager to share his elation over War Department advances on the first use of the terrible new aerial weapon, Mr. Truman walked all around the ship yesterday telling crew members about it.

First he entered the officers' ward room, and, directing them to keep their seats, announced: "We have just dropped a bomb on Japan which has more power than 20,000 tons of TNT. It was an overwhelming success."

He then hastened away to repeat the announcement to seamen lunching in messes elsewhere in the ship. Jubilant cheer arose everywhere he went.

Typical of the comment heard on every hand was, "I guess I'll get home sooner now."

NO COMPROMISE JAPS ARE TOLD

San Francisco, Aug. 7 (AP)—Kichisaburo Nomura warned the Japanese people today not to expect compromise surrender terms although the Americans are frankly anxious to end the war quickly.

The former ambassador to Washington, who yesterday characterized the Potsdam surrender ultimatum to Japan as the height of impertinence, today moved to further stiffen the national backbone in an interview characterizing the American people as "hot-tempered."

The former envoy did not mention in his anti-surrender discussion the awesome new atomic bomb which first was released against the Japanese yesterday with a power threatening extermination of the empire.

After explaining American "hot-temperance" and "nervousness" at length, Nomura cautioned "we should not take these weak points of the American people at their face value. Although they are looking forward for a quick termination of the war, they are not the kind of people who will seek a compromise because of this. x x x"

"Keeping this point in mind clearly, the people of our country must not be misled by their sugar-coated words, and must fight to our hearts' content with our own power alone."

Nomura's comments were broadcast by Tokyo radio and recorded by the Federal Communications Commission.

Japs Fight Hard In Burma Drive

Calcutta, Aug. 7 (AP)—Allied troops battling in the Sittang river area of southeast Burma are meeting determined resistance from the Japanese, a southeast Asia command communiqué said today.

The fighting in this sector already has cost the Japanese 10,000 dead in recent weeks but they continued to resist stubbornly in the flooded area between Myittha and the old Sittang river channel and in the Shwegyin area.

manpower. On the basis of actual facts, and of the experience gained during the period of the brown-out, when a midnight curfew was in effect nationally, midnight closing is much more consistent with the normal routine of the community than a 2 a. m. closing."

Cites Offenses

A study made of the nature of night disturbances, which was reported at the meeting, revealed horn-blowing, fast driving and the loud conversations and hilarity of the so-called "street-corner conferences" that take place at all hours of the night, considerably after the closing hours of licensed establishments, as the chief offenses.

It was revealed also that the individuals involved are for the most part from outside the borough rather than local residents.

The licensees, including the clubs, agreed also to conduct campaigns among their members urging quiet departure from the premises at night so as to eliminate all possible disturbances to residents and visitors who have retired early.

Pyle Did Not Like To Farm; Liked Books, Racing Cars

(Hal Boyle and Ernie Pyle were the two most widely circulated columnists of the European war. They covered much the same ground. Both won the Pulitzer prize. Yet they never competed. Each was busy in his own way, telling America of the lives of its sons at the front. Hal, on his way to the Pacific to continue his column in the area where a Japanese machinegun cut short Ernie's career, stopped off to see Pyle's Aunt Mary and Father Will. This is the second of two columns on that visit.)

By HAL BOYLE

Dana, Ind., (AP)—The small wren finally got the best of Ernie Pyle's Aunt Mary.

For two seasons the little bird tried to build its unsightly twig nest atop the electric light meter on the front porch of the Pyle farm home.

It was a poor location—right above the screen door. But the wren was infatuated with the light meter. Every time Aunt Mary pulled down her store of twigs, back came the stubborn bird with more.

Aunt Mary was just as stubborn. Eventually she forced the discontented wren to nest and raise its brood in a box she and Will Pyle, Ernie's dad, built in a nearby tree.

This year the excited wren got a head start on Aunt Mary. She flew back and forth like a bumblebee with her beak full of twigs. And 79-year-old Aunt Mary, thinking how much Ernie had loved all animals, just sat and watched her build her nest on the light meter.

Wren Wins Out

"That poor little wren—I don't know how many times I tore that nest down," she said, stroking Snooky, Ernie's dead mother's dog.

"It's so messy. But she's been so faithful I felt sorry for her, and I said to her, 'This time you can keep it.' And the wren is now sitting happily in her hopelessly twig palace on the light meter."

Aunt Mary's remaining life now is wrapped in memories of Ernie.

"He was always so good to his folks," she said. "We still get letters from people all over the world who knew him. Right after we lost him on the little Pacific island—I never can rightly remember its name—we got 22 telegrams and more than 500 letters."

"They were such lovely letters—fine letters, worded so nice. Will and I read every one of them. They still keep coming."

Aunt Mary's blue eyes shimmer unsteadily whenever she begins talking about her nephew.

"He was always so frail," she said. "I don't see how he ever stood up under all that cold and mud and slush. And all that noise."

Ernie Liked Books

She lifted her hands—as if to shut that noise away from Ernie.

"He never ate much or wanted knick-knacks, but he ate more than common that last night he came back."

"As a boy he was quiet and never rowdy. He read lots of books. He never used to take part in games at Bono township school. He'd rather referee them."

"He was crazy about race cars and used to cut out all their pictures. He hated farm work, but he did his own work well. He liked to drive the tractor. He wanted to be an auto mechanic then."

"Somehow he never could learn to milk a cow right. It always squirted down his sleeve instead of into the bucket."

Neither Aunt Mary nor Will Pyle want Ernie brought back home—at least not until after the war.

"It wouldn't be fair to the others," said Aunt Mary. "He fought for those boys and he's laid where he wants to be. There's nothing to be brought back—that's the way his father and me feel."

Seek Two Men In Erie Murder Case

Erie, Pa., Aug. 7 (AP)—State police today sought two men seen walking up the driveway to Joseph A. Campbell's house the night of July 31 at about the time they believe the 72-year-old farmer was brutally murdered.

State Police Sgt. Willard Schauer said the men were seen by a little girl who lived on an adjoining farm. The night of the murder was fixed by discovery of a daily weather record kept by Campbell, on which the last entry was dated July 31, Schauer stated.

Campbell's body was found Sunday by his daughter. He had been beaten over the head and bound and gagged. Officers said he probably lived some time after being tied.

Aluminum can be rolled into foil so thin that 10 layers are needed to equal the thickness of a newspaper page.

MAJOR BONG, TOP AIR ACE, DIES IN CRASH

Burbank, Calif., Aug. 7 (AP)—Major Richard Ira Bong, the farm boy who became America's aerial ace of aces by downing 40 Japanese planes while emerging unscathed from over 500 combat hours, today lay dead, the victim of a jet P-80 Shooting Star explosion which occurred four minutes after a takeoff.

The explosion, which scattered parts of the plane over an acre, occurred yesterday afternoon just after the 24-year-old pilot left Lockheed air terminal on a test flight. Major Bong apparently tried to jump clear of the disintegrating ship, but flames caught him.

His body was found 100 feet from the flaming jet turbine. His parachute had partly opened.

The wiry, pug-nosed fighter pilot, who had been testing P-80's for the Army Technical Service command since July 9, knew he was in trouble as soon as the plane took off. He radioed the control tower.

Terrific Explosion

Suddenly, a puff of black smoke belched from the world's fastest plane as Bong leveled off in flight. A Lockheed service mechanic, Frank Bodenhamer, reported: "The right wing tipped, the pilot's escape hatch came off and the plane nosed over straight down. A column of smoke went into the air for about 400 feet."

Other witnesses said the plane exploded with a terrific roar, which shook the vicinity. Most of the plane, and Bong's body landed in a vacant lot.

This was the end, then for the Poplar, Wis., boy who had earned 26 decorations, including the Congressional Medal of Honor and the Distinguished Air medal, the latter presented to him by King George of England. In addition to his 40 kills, he had nine probables in two years of combat in the south Pacific, mostly over New Guinea.

Bong joined the Air Forces in May, 1941 and was overseas that fall.

Wed in February

In his baptism of fire on December 27, 1942, he knocked down a Zero and a dive bomber over Buna. Flying a P-38 named "Marge," the former choir boy surpassed Eddie Rickenbacker's World War I record of 26 enemy aircraft downed in combat and aircraft right on.

He and Marjorie Vattendahl were married last February 10 in Superior. They honeymooned in Hollywood, where they settled down after Bong was assigned to the Air Technical command.

Grounded temporarily while touring air gunnery schools, Bong told newsmen with a grin:

"I guess they don't want me killed off."

Mrs. Bong, 21, was preparing to accompany her hero husband on his final flight. An army transport will bear the body to Superior, where the major's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bong, two of his brothers and four sisters live.

Financial Help On Stream Cleanup

Harrisburg, Aug. 7 (AP)—Governor Martin's multi-million dollar post war stream clearance drive gained new impetus today with approval of methods for giving comprehensive financial help to municipalities and industries in planning their share of the program.

The action came at a conference held by Martin with Attorney General James H. Duff, James A. Kell, secretary of forests and waters, Chief Engineer H. E. Moses of the Health Department, and J. R. Hoffert, secretary of the State Sanitary Water Board.

"Plans for assisting municipalities and industry by financial aid from the state were approved," the governor's office said in a brief statement later. "Progress is being made in securing engineering help to carry the plans into effect."

A Sanitary Water Board spokesman said later "complete details" of the program will be issued in a few days and that everyone would be impressed by "its fairness and honesty."

Ask Deferments For Ex-Strikers

Philadelphia, Aug. 7 (AP)—Officials of Keasbey and Mattison company, Ambler asbestos firm, submitted a request yesterday to a Montgomery county draft board asking that the 42 employees of the firm who were reclassified to 1A for participating in a work stoppage be placed back in 2B, a company spokesman said.

The men were among 900 who joined a walkout July 26 in protest of the company's failure to renew contract negotiations with Local 2409, Textile Workers of America (AFL). They reported yesterday for pre-induction physical examinations at the induction center here.

State Selective Service headquarters in Harrisburg said yesterday that the firm's request probably would be granted since all of the men are over 30 and the majority of them are married.

Thirteen out of every twenty American high school students expect to leave their home towns and live elsewhere, after they have completed their education.

Spanish Minister Travels Incognito

Philadelphia, Aug. 7 (AP)—Manuel Aznar, new Spanish minister to the United States, left the liner Marques De Comillas at Marcus Hook Saturday night and proceeded incognito to Washington, Spanish consulate officials here announced.

A group of more than 100 marchers bearing anti-Franco placards gathered at the pier to meet the ship. Police said the group represented the American committee for Spanish freedom.

When the Marques De Comillas touched at Havana recently, Aznar remained aboard ship on the advice of Cuban authorities because a large crowd gathered in an anti-Franco demonstration.

JAPANESE SAY BOMB DROPPED BY PARACHUTE

San Francisco, Aug. 7 (AP)—The new atomic bomb that shook Hiroshima was dropped from an American plane by parachute and exploded before it hit the ground, a Japanese Domei News Agency dispatch broadcast by radio Tokyo said today.

"The destructive power of the new weapon cannot be slighted," admitted the enemy report, monitored by the Federal Communications Commission.

Domei quoted "informed quarters" in Tokyo as conceding that the new bomb had "considerable destructive power." Earlier, a Japanese Imperial headquarters communique used the same adjective in describing damage to Hiroshima as "considerable."

While President Truman's announcement said that one atomic bomb was released, both the communique and the later Domei dispatch referred to the bomb in the plural, indicating the Japanese could not believe that only a single bomb was used. Domei said a "few" were dropped, adding:

"As a result of this wanjoan attack, a considerable number of houses in the city were demolished, while fires were caused to start at several points."

MANY DOMESTIC PROBLEMS FACE PRESIDENT HERE

Washington, Aug. 7 (AP)—President Truman, nearing home today with a satchel full of international agreements, will find the domestic pot boiling with problems.

First off Mr. Truman must complete his manuscript for the radio report to the nation he is expected to make within the next day or two on what happened when he sat down with Generalissimo Stalin, Prime Minister Churchill and former Prime Minister Churchill.

The Big Three Potsdam communique left unanswered such questions as the use to which German prisoners are to be put, how European relief will be handled and whether newsmen actually are going to be permitted to report on what happens inside Poland and the Balkan countries.

To Decide Army Size

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) called on the Big Three yesterday to guarantee news freedom privileges in those areas as a check on the freedom of elections there.

Whether Mr. Truman answers any of these queries, he apparently is going to have to say something about the size of the army. Some legislators lately have been bearing down on the key that the army is keeping too many men in uniform.

Because most Congressmen have gone home, Mr. Truman may not face any showdown with them until October. But he may have to tell the army to release more transportation workers and coal miners.

Although now on vacation, Secretary of Interior Ickes is likely to be an early White House caller to discuss the coal problem. Defense Transportation Director J. Monroe Johnson, who has been "hollering" about the lack of railroad workers, also may have a few words for the President.

Still another White House visitor is likely to be Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach with a suggestion for a national conference on post war labor-industry relations.

Mr. Truman also has some unfinished business on appointments. Secretary Byrnes wants to shake up the State Department, and William I. Clayton may be the only survivor among present top rank officials.

Ickes may ask for a showdown on his job. Westerners lately have been booming D. Worth Clark, former Idaho Senator, for the interior post. Secretary of War Stimson also may want to quit soon.

Asks Bigger Output Of Pulpwood In Pa.

Harrisburg, Aug. 7 (AP)—Increased output of pulpwood by Pennsylvania farmers was urged today by Governor Martin "to supply vital war needs until the Japs have raised the white flag of unconditional surrender."

Praising farmers for past production, Martin added in a statement it is apparent the War Production Board's 165,000 cord goal for Pennsylvania will be met but "the production of pulpwood throughout the country continues below military and civilian requirements and a critical emergency still exists."

The dentist said: "Again I'll see if more must now be extracted. Ah!" he cried, "beyond a doubt, You're keeping two that should be out!"

You know there's many a floral wreath

Would not be bought except for teeth!"

"Two more to lose!" said I. "Tis plain

You've taken more than now remain."

"I know," he answered. "Better far.

Whenever teeth infected are,

To have them out than risk the grave

Merely a tooth or two to save.

"Come, open! Open! Wider, please! And soon you will be rid of these! Come, nurse, the instruments to pass.

Will it be novocaine or gas?

Well, out they are! Now you'll admit

That really didn't hurt a bit?"

Today's Talk

TOUCHING THE PULSE OF NATURE

When I sit on the stone steps of my small summer Lodge, here at Weskewanauk, and feed my pet squirrels, there are those who would say that I am wasting my time, and making a fool of myself. Far from it. I am getting enjoyment. These small animals have learned something about man—that he is not their enemy.

But this isn't all. I pluck a whole armful of wild flowers and scatter them about my hemlock Lodge. I scent their odor. They blend with the natural bark upon the walls. I associate them with a small dish of domestic pansies, my favorite flower, which I always plant in a small garden outside my doorway.

Nearly every day I greet a new variety of bird. I love birds. The small nest of flickers have now flown from their tiny Spanish woven nest in the white birch tree, and I have removed the nest, as an example of fine workmanship, to the wall behind where I write each day.

I wander about this island and am content. I am not lonely though alone. You see, in the larger sense, I am surrounded by friends, animate and inanimate. I am really in the whole with Nature. Every element in my body is akin to every element in the mossy earth that I tread, and literally melts into the very songs of the birds that welcome the day in, and sing it out into its slumber. I am touching the pulse of Nature and learning of its life and substance.

How silly those who have no time to take a vacation—those who are eminently able to do so. They prefer to sit at their desks or lounge in their clubs, full of worry and body aches. They do not know that Nature has more power in its little finger than the mightiest man has with his millions.

I love the sunshine. It is so soothing and warms the ache in one's heart. They tell me that there are veins of gold in this little island. Were it caked with gold I would not turn my finger to dig it out. I prefer it as it is with its mammoth trees and rocky surface, clothed with mossy growth. One, two; one two—there is no pulse in all the world so regular and eternal as the pulse of nature—if you can get its beat!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "That Imagination of Yours."

SERVICEMEN MAY APPLY FOR BALLOTS

Harrisburg, Aug. 7 (AP)—Requests for military ballots for the November municipal election can be made anytime now for Pennsylvanians in the armed forces but few are likely to receive ballots before the Sept. 29 deadline for mailing.

Changes made in the commonwealth's election laws by the 1945 Legislature permit any serviceman or woman born before November 8, 1924, to vote this year for local or statewide candidates without registration on absentee ballots as in 1944. To be valid, however, they must be returned by Nov. 16.

All it takes under the amended law, the state elections bureau said today, is a written request for the ballot by the serviceman or by any one familiar with his voting qualifications to the bureau of the commissioners of the county in which he resides.

Special Provisions

The letter—a postcard or even wrapping paper will do—must give the name, home address, military address, age, American citizenship for at least a month, residence in Pennsylvania for at least six months if he was born here or was a former legal resident, or a year otherwise; and residence in an election district at least two months—and military service even counts towards that if the applicant resided only a single day in a district before induction.

The military ballot, however, is the only one they can use.

And these special provisions also apply to voters in the Merchant Marine, and personnel of the American Red Cross, Society of Friends, Women's Auxiliary Service Pilots, international committee of the YMCA, national board of the YMCA, National Catholic Community Service, Salvation Army, National Jewish Welfare Board, National Travelers' Aid Association, USO—Camp Shows, Inc., or American Field Service, attached to and serving with the armed forces.

Reimburse County

In the field, ballots must be opened in the presence of a sergeant or higher-ranking officer in the Army or Marines or a third class petty officer or higher in the Navy.

Then it must be marked with a pencil, indelible pencil, crayon or ink, placed in a special envelope and an affidavit filled out and sworn to on the back of a second envelope in which it must be mailed to county election boards.

County boards have until Sept. 29 to mail out ballots requested up to then and 48 hours to dispatch others applied for until election day. The state reimburses counties at the rate of 40 cents for each ballot mailed or delivered to a qualified voter.

Vacation Trip In Plane Cancelled

Philadelphia, Aug. 7 (AP)—The project of Caleb Fox, banker of nearby Rydal, to use a "flying box-car" for a vacation trip to Maine was called off Sunday, officials at Northeast airport announced.

Fox had scheduled a flight for a party of 12 and his automobile in a Conestoga cargo plane chartered from the National Skyways Freight Corporation, Los Angeles. On Saturday, Mrs. Fox explained that the plan to use a plane developed from the inability to get railway reservations and the scarcity of gasoline for the Fox family automobile.

"It's a mess," was all that Mrs. Fox would offer in the way of explanation at her home after Airport officials announced the cancellation of the trip. Fox was unavailable for comment.

2,400 Coal Miners Return To Work

Pittsburgh, Aug. 7 (AP) — More than 2,400 workers at five western Pennsylvania coal mines returned to work yesterday, pending arbitration of local grievances.

The mines which had been closed were Pittsburgh Coal company's Montour No. 4 and Crescent No. 1, Republic Steel corporation's Crescent No. 2, and Weirton Steel company's Isoella.

Some 300 idle employees at Hillman Coal and Coke company's Poland mine voted to resume work today.

Still idle was Hunkers mine of Delmont Coal company, employing 100.

HOAX ON SURVIVORS

Pittsburgh, Aug. 7 (AP)—Relatives of servicemen were warned today against fraudulent schemes to publicize dead or wounded killed through some mythical "Hall of Fame" or "Hero's Memorial Book."

Col. Lucius McK. Crumrine, commanding officer of the army's Pittsburgh sub-district, said families approached by individuals or organizations seeking money for such purposes should report to military police headquarters.

His dose was small, his life was saved.

Picnic: The Presbyterian congregation of this place, will hold a picnic Thursday, Aug. 8th, in the grove of Ambrose Shank, at Marsh Creek, on the Western Maryland road.

How Much Fertilizer?

If the gardener can compute how much fertilizer to apply per 100 square feet of ground space, how can he determine from that information how much to apply to a 10-foot row, for example, or to a certain number of plants under various spacings?

Of course, as mentioned in yesterday's article, different fertilizers vary in weight, so in determining how much of any particular fertilizer to use per 10 feet of row or per plant in different spacings, refer to yesterday's volume per 100 square feet and then follow the rates given below: (If odd rates are desired or odd spacings occur, proper rates can be figured by fractions or multiples of rates cited.)

At a rate of 10 pints per 100 square feet, apply 3 pints per 10 feet of row three feet wide, two pints for rows two feet wide, and one pint per 10 feet of row where rows are one foot wide. At the same rate (10 pints per 100 square feet), apply two and one-half pints per plant spaced 5x5 feet, one cup per plant spaced 24x24 feet, and one-half cup per plant spaced 2x1 1/2 feet.

Rates of Application

At a rate of six pints per 100 square feet, use one-half the rate three and one-half cups when rows are three feet wide, two and one-half cups when rows are two feet wide, and one and one-half cups when rows are one foot wide. And at the six-pint rate, use three cups per plant when spaced 5x5 feet, one-half cup (just slightly more) for plants spaced 24x24 feet, and one-fourth cup (slightly more) for plants 2x1 1/2 feet.

At the rate of five pints per 100 square feet, use one-half the rate recommended at the rate of 10 pints per 100 square feet.

If the rate is three pints per 100 square feet, use one-half the respective measurements advised under the six-pint rate per 100 square feet. And of course, for nine pints per 100 square feet the three-pint rates of measurement are merely tripled.

Now to provide an easy basis for computing row and plant rates in even numbers two, four and eight, we give the measurements for four pints per 100 square feet. They are: two and one-half cups for 10 feet of row spaced three feet wide, two and one-half cups for 10 feet of row where the spacing is two feet between rows, and three-fourth cup where rows are one foot wide. And for plants spaced 5x5 feet, use two cups per plant, six and one-half tablespoonfuls per plant spaced 24x24 feet, and three tablespoonfuls (slightly heaped) for plants spaced 2x1 1/2 feet.

More Information

If the rate is two and one-half pints per 100 square feet, 10 feet of row rates are easily determined by using half the rates advised under the five-pint paragraph. Likewise the 10-foot row and per plant measurements where one and one-half pints per 100 square feet are recommended may be computed by using one-fourth of the six-pint rates or by taking one-half of the three-pint rates.

But where the rate is one and one-half cups per 100 square feet, use one-half cup for 10 feet of row

Kept 39 Dogs In 3-Room Apartment

New York, Aug. 7 (AP)—Harriet Oswald's fancy for dogs landed her in a Brooklyn court yesterday, charged with violation of the sanitary code.

Magistrate Charles Solomon suspended a 60-day sentence, providing she left the ASPCA keep her dogs.

It wasn't that the court objected to dogs—

But 39 of them in a three-room city apartment was a bit too much, ruled the magistrate.

POLIO CLOSES CAMP

Honesdale, Pa., Aug. 7 (AP) — Camp Beachlake, eight miles east of here, has been closed by the state Board of Health because two boys who were camp guests have been stricken with infantile paralysis.

Proprietor Nathan Israel reported yesterday Wayne county Health Officer Daniel Eno said there were no reports of other polio cases in the county.

BODY FOUND

Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 7 (AP)—The body of Alex Palamar, 55, Johnstown, was found yesterday on a farm near Orwigsburg. Palamar has been reported missing from his home since July 21. Death was due to exposure, Deputy Coroner E. L. Klock of Schuylkill county said.

YOUTH IS STRANGLED

Report Japan With Our Service Men

what it was expected to do, some of the rumors that have grown up about it during the years of secret research have been "rather extravagant."

"When people talk about the bomb obliterating everything within a radius of 100 miles," he said, "—well, that's a rather long way, isn't it?"

Two-Sided Problem

Because of its enormous potentialities for both war and peace, the use of atomic energy is a two-sided problem. Here are principal points of both sides as developed in official statements interpreted by those qualified to do so:

Effect on the war with Japan—

Dropping of the first atomic bomb on the Japanese army base at Hiroshima Sunday night was mainly a warning to the enemy. Pending full reconnaissance reports, it is believed here that the city, which had a pre-war population of 318,000, was largely if not completely wiped out.

American propaganda broadcasts are bombarding the Japanese with reports of this mighty new weapon. Enemy warriors can determine for themselves what it did at Hiroshima with a destructive force comparable to 20,000 tons of TNT.

Have No Defense

The Japanese have no adequate defense against this weapon anymore than against regular aerial bombardment. They can only surrender or face destruction. The hour is the most critical in their national history.

Few top officials here expect a surrender at once, and Mr. Truman himself said the United States is fully prepared to go ahead with the bombings.

Moreover future attacks shortly may be intensified, for Mr. Truman disclosed that new and even more powerful atomic bombs are in the making.

Furthermore, it may be assumed that the atomic bomb can be dropped with accuracy equalling that of standard types, while the V-2 was strictly an area weapon.

40,000-Ft. Cloud

From descriptions of the New Mexico test and the use of the bomb at Hiroshima, it appears that only one bombing run is possible over a target. In the desert trial the smoke cloud rose quickly to 40,000 feet, while at Hiroshima the target immediately and apparently for some time after was blacked out by dust and smoke.

The plane which drops the atomic bomb presumably must get clear of the blast effect as quickly as possible, despite its altitude, just as low flying medium bombers depend upon delayed action fusions to permit them to get clear.

Some new flying tactics probably are being worked out for use of the new blaster and the more terrible ones under development. It is likely also that among the many experimental types of warplanes in the secret rooms of aircraft factories are "some intended to perform especially for the new bomb.

man, who appeared to object to the way the parking situation is being handled here. He listed "all-day parking" in the business section as a matter that needed to be corrected.

Raps Enforcement

"Every town around Gettysburg has parking meters, why don't we have them in Gettysburg?" Mr. Oyer asked. He spoke of the "unfairness" of the present enforcement campaign against double and red line parking here.

Mr. Oyer was assured by President H. M. Oyer that the "safety committee is working on a plan to solve the parking problem in the very near future."

Meters were first mentioned at the regular July meeting of council when it was disclosed that parking meter salesmen had been in Gettysburg and had "received a warm welcome" in many quarters that had opposed the meters during earlier attempts to install them here.

Local Major Called "Pretty Good Joe"

Major Eric Duckstad, son of Mrs. Kenderton S. Lynch, Carlisle street, and battalion commander of the Army Service Training unit at Stanford university, California, was the subject of a feature article in a recent issue of The Stanford Daily, campus publication.

The article, written by a member of the paper's staff, concludes that the 27-year-old major "who looks no older than some of the AST trainees" at the school, is a "pretty good Joe."

A regular Army officer, Major Duckstad entered the service in 1939 as a reserve officer under the Thompson Act. A graduate of Gettysburg college, he majored here in mathematics and languages and was a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He graduated in 1939.

Commissioned first in the infantry, he transferred in 1940 to the tanks and attended a series of service schools including the general staff school at Fort Leavenworth. On desert maneuvers he incurred a knee injury that kept him from going overseas.

He is married and the father of a 17-months-old son.

Back - To - School Drive Launched

Washington, Aug. 7 (AP) — The government today launched a back-to-school drive aimed at increasing high school enrollment by 250,000 students this fall.

Sponsored by the Children's Bureau of the Labor Department and the Office of Education the drive is a step toward restoring pre-war enrollment of 7,250,000 boys and girls. This dropped last year to around 6,000,000, due almost entirely to wartime job opportunities.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it causes a variety of ailments, such as: backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of our dear son and brother, George W. Warner, who died in France, one year ago today, August 7th, 1944.

Just one year ago today, our loving brother passed away. Sad and sudden was the call, of one so dear to us all.

In our hearts the memory lingers, always tender, fond and true; There is not a day, loved one, that we do not think of you.

We did not know the pain you felt, nor heard your final sigh; We only know you went away, with- out a last good-bye.

John J. Warner, Sr., and Children

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of my dear brother, Sgt. George Warner, who gave his life in France, August 7, 1944, for his country he loved so well.

He was so young and fair, So fine, all through; Born with the will to dare And the wish to do.

High were the dreams he had For his years to be; But for power one man went mad Now, his victim, he!

The world one man defied, With his legions great, And the boy put his dreams aside Saying: "These can wait!"

None knows what he might have done, What he might have been; But his gift to us, every one, Is the earth made clean.

Sadly missed by his brother-in- law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Baumgardner.

She carried a white Bible, topped with a white orchid from which fell streamers fastened with sweetheart rosettes.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Glenn Hoffman, Aspers. Another sister, Miss Mary Jane Crabill, was the bridesmaid. Mrs. Hoffman was attired in a gown of pink taffeta and net with a fitted bodice. Miss Crabill wore a blue gown made on the same order. Both wore headresses of mixed flowers matching their bouquets.

Attending the bridegroom was his brother, Ross Schwartz, and a cousin, Wilbur Waybright.

A reception for the immediate families followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents after which the couple left on a short wedding trip of unannounced destination.

Traveling Costume
The bride's going away dress was of flowered pique with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride attended Gettysburg high school after which she completed her training as a nurse at the West Side sanitarium, York, where she is now employed. Pvt. Schwartz graduated from Gettysburg high school in 1940 and recently completed his basic training at Camp Blanding, Fla. At the conclusion of his furlough he will report to Ft. Meade, Md.

those on the inactive list. Any train- ing they may have previously re- ceived and may then be able to use is certainly all to the good. But re- training will certainly be necessary.

Pfc. Roth seems to feel compul- sory training was the low countries' downfall. True France, Poland, and Belgium had compulsory military education—and so had Germany! Now France, Poland and Belgium lost during the early part of the war, and Germany won at that time. So what does compulsory military training prove? It is not the system of compulsory military service that can be criticized or given credit, but how the system was worked.

Many Use Conscription
How about England? No compul- sory military training as we under- stand it! But according to Mr. Roth's reasoning she should have been winning, and in the early part of the war she wasn't. The successes of the last two years, in this dis- cussion, are irrelevant since all the United Nations and the Axis have resorted to one form of conscription or another to provide necessary manpower.

Let us not confuse the discussion of peacetime training by reflecting on the FINAL outcome of this war. The U. S. has at least a potent fac- tor in the turn of events from 1941 on, but remember that the war was on officially (September 1, 1939) two years and more before we were in it officially (December 8, 1941), and it was at least another year before we actively took part in force (land- ing in North Africa). We had, in 1939, no effective force with which to maintain peace on land, sea, or in the air. We had three years, and then some of actual conscription and training before we can say our weight was felt. I do not mean to belittle in the least the actions our men participated in before the fall of 1943, but it cannot be said that we were a major force.

Mr. Roth's point is well taken that these one-year men are not any longer "trained" several years after they have been released to inactive duty. As indicated before, it is not contemplated that the protection comes from these inactives, but rather from the standing army, ac- tually in uniform.

Employable Youths
Pfc. Roth's whole objection to the military training seems to hang on the doubtful residue of valuable training after the individual be- comes inactive. His entire letter is pointless if we admit the main pur- pose of peacetime conscription is to maintain a larger standing army of young trained men, to pass the responsibility around evenly, and to take the man at the time it upsets his normal civilian life as little as possible.

Educators and employers alike agree that the teen-agers are not as employable as persons at twenty or more. In our community, Adams county, these youth are very diffi- cultly employable or useful at home, but in the cities and the country at large an employer wants a little more age and, if possible, a more settled person—one who takes his job pretty seriously which Mr. Roth says his 18-year-olds don't there in his training program in the States. The majority of boys have not set up their own families at this age, and not a small per cent of them ## secretly want a chance to get away from home and see things. If a boy has been reared as you'd like to think yours has been, his morals won't collapse overnight; he may even admit when he returns that there is virtue in some of your previously tiring advice. You call it growing up; he's just had a chance to learn for himself.

Year Not Reunions
One of the most-touted benefits of college is that the student stands on his own legs. I didn't mean to com- pare college education and enforced military service; I just say that a year of being away from home at or near age 18 isn't ruinous, and even may have some benefits.

Mr. Roth isn't the first person to emphasize money for better inter- national relations and less for mili- tary expenses. Everyone agrees on the benefit of roadside signs and posters "educating" motorists to drive carefully or slowly or not to cross white lines. But even Mr. Roth, I presume, would support adequate police to pick up offenders who ignore these signs. Education and better international relations are not yet entirely effective to prevent war. Unless he would eliminate a standing army altogether (which I doubt he advocates) it becomes a question of "How large shall the army be?" The military has esti- mated that one year's service for each able man would provide an adequate force under arms at any one time. They also estimate 18 to be the least inconvenient age to require that service, the most ad- vantageous to the army, and the least disruptive to society.

Training A Joke?
So the 18-year-olds think training is a joke? Isn't Mr. Roth being a little all-inclusive. True some do; and true a lot of them don't. There are a lot of men, eighteen when they entered the service, who have come to feel home is a dearer place than they knew before, who realize now that school is valuable, who will be glad for even a monotonous job "after" so long as it pays their bills and lets them get home at night. And not all these who have become more serious had to see action to feel that way. Yes, a year, or three years away from home has changed their ideas about a lot of things; mostly they're more serious about everything. They'll surprise you with what they've been thinking while away, and you were still think- ing of them as children.

Does the fact that Gettysburg em- ploys police imply a fight? Does the presence of Pennsylvania motor police on the highway imply a fight? Not necessarily! But if there is someone who disobeys wilfully or carelessly the rules of our society, there is someone ready, trained, to take over the situation before it gets out of hand. Yes, we had a peacetime army, but not large enough or well enough equipped, and the situation is now well out of hand.

Poses Question
If anyone else enters the debate, let us confine the talk to answering these questions:

Do you believe in a standing army at all?

Do you believe it should be larger than 1930 (let us say) or 1935?

Do you believe in everyone sharing the responsibility for maintaining our freedom?

Just what age would provide the most active and enthusiastic men, and at the same time be ## the least inconvenient to a man's career?

Who is best qualified to de- termine the numbers of men re- quired for our future peacetime role? Those of us who have been in eleven months? or a year or two? or those who have devoted a lifetime to the service?

To answer my questions (one man's idea only remember):

I do believe in a standing army until such time as international co- operation shall be effective enough in its own right to make wars be- tween nations unlikely.

Favors Conscription
I know it must be larger than 250,000 which it was during the 30's. We probably have more military personnel than that in any one of several areas you might choose now. The above figure is only one-thirty- second part of the present army fig- ure, ignoring entirely Navy, Marines, Coast Guard and Merchant Marine.

I believe conscription to be the only equitable way to distribute the responsibility if volunteers are in- adequate. Let the period be a year or two years as necessary to provide the number in active duty that the military require.

I believe the period immediately after high school covers the age when the greatest benefits will ac- crue to the armed forces and to the individual, and the least incon- venience will be experienced. Or does 25 or 30 sound more logical?

I believe also in a group of career men grounded in military science, land, sea and air. I believe in letting them decide what numbers are necessary to do the job we assign them as we wisely have done during this war. They are not free to criticism, nor have they been un- watched and un-criticized, but mostly the decisions of campaigns, material, and numbers of men are theirs and should be.

Asks For Opinions
Admittedly I'm at a disadvantage not knowing Pfc. Roth's background in the service; probably not many of us "draftees" have a very competent picture of the military problem. But, let's have opinions on Standing Army or No; conscription or volun- teers; and if universal military service by all at some age, then what age? Let's hear from men who have done the most arduous duty; let's hear from those of the last war who saw action; and then let's hear from the rest of us whose duty has not been so tough—civilians and serv- ice-men alike—keeping in mind always that those of us who have not faced death are inclined to be placid and calm. Be impressed and not condescending if those who have seen more are more violent in their methods than we. Forgive them if force seems to them the way to oppose force. Well, at the moment anyway!

It cannot be said that the world- peace dream is hopeless. It can be said that we have not accomplished it yet. We have come a long way through enlarging the community unit, from the family, the tribe, the village, the county, and the state to the United States, but we have not yet a real United Nations. We have failed that opportunity once; this time? Well there is at least a lot yet to be done.

Chapter 8
Their plans were laid before they went out to the Lake Shore settlement for dinner. Across the table Evelyn asked, "What did you mean about having the apartment warm by next winter?"

"Oh," Jane looked around. Ev- eryone nearby was much too in- terested in food, to pay any atten- tion to them. "My—my employer owns that building and several others as obsolete. I'm pretty sure I can convince her it will be to her advantage to rehabilitate them. I've an idea all dwelling places are going to be at a premium before we are well into this year."

"All I need now is an architect, a contractor and realty legal ad- viser."

Evelyn's cheeks were suddenly pink, her eyes flushed with tears. "I know a contractor. Roy worked for him before he was called. Roy was my fiancé. He was killed at Pearl Harbor. That's why I want to work hard, all of the time. This Mr. Parrish is absolutely trust- worthy."

Jane laid a quick, sympathetic hand over Evelyn's. "We'll call Mr. Parrish as soon as this other busi- ness is settled. And will you move in with me?"

"Then you really intend to stay on even after you've finished Mrs. —your employer's work?"

"Why," answered Jane, startled, "yes, I believe I do."

They parted at the streetcar. Evelyn to return to the crowded apartment she'd expected to leave as a bride, month's before. Jane to walk back to the lonely barnlike structure on the hill above the lake.

"Now why," Jane asked of her- self, "am I intending to stay on after the fireworks are over? Come on, be honest—tell me."

Because, the answer came hon- estly, here was a business made to order, one in which she could take an executive hand. She would prove to Mark Sheridan that she could handle the administrative end and leave him free for his beloved pumps and sales manage- ment.

She was still gay when she left the next morning, striding through a light drizzle to the streetcar which would carry her near the Sheridan works.

Her cheeks were flaming scarlet under her green rain hat when she walked in, hands in the pockets of her green raincoat, and there she was stopped abruptly.

Carla Hansen was not only on time this Monday morning; she was early.

"You needn't bother removing your wraps, Miss Grey," she an- nounced. "You'll be leaving right away. Here is the usual two weeks' advance. I find your work com- pletely unsatisfactory. The mis- takes you made in the work I left you Saturday were astonishing for one who claims to have some knowledge of typing. Goodbye."

"I'm sorry, Miss Hansen"—Jane attempted to pass her—"but I've no intention of being discharged without a hearing."

"Mr. Haskins—oh, Mr. Haskins," Carla had thrust her curls into the nearest door to call.

"Yes, yes," Haskins stood there, rubbing the palms of his hands to- gether. "Trouble, Miss Hansen?"

"This—this typist refuses to ac- cept a discharge, though I've given her two weeks' advance. She says she must have a hearing. As you are a member of the board of di- rectors, perhaps she will conde- scend to place her case before you."

Jane looked steadily at Mr. Has- kins. "I'm sorry, but I have no means of knowing this gentleman is a member of the board."

"A vice president and the hold- er of a substantial block of Sheri- dan stock, young lady."

"A holder? And who is the own- er, Mr. Haskins?"

Mr. Haskins stepped back, and every girl in the corridor stopped back with him. It was as though the floor were being cleared for battle.

"Er—Miss Hansen"—Haskins was rubbing his hands nervously—"I think Mr. Carter—yes, I think Mr. Carter should handle this. I'm not prepared to face such—such in- solence. He is more adapted. Yes, you call Mr. Carter and tell him."

"Tell him," Jane cut in, "that I shall be here working, but that a representative of the National La- bor Relations Board office will pre- sent my case to him."

"That won't be necessary, Miss —Miss—"

Every eye turned to the inner door, which had opened suddenly. Mark Sheridan stood there, lean- ing on a crutch.

Legion All Stars To Play Saturday

Philadelphia, Aug. 7 (AP)—The second annual American Legion all star baseball game to select eastern Pennsylvania's all American boy scheduled for yesterday was postponed until Saturday because of rain.

The All Stars will play at 2:30 p. m. unless the Philadelphia Phillies schedule a game for Shibe Park in the meantime. If the Phillies decide to play, the game will be scheduled under lights at 8:30 p. m.

The boy chosen as the District's No. 1 performer in the game will play with Babe Ruth's eastern team in the east-west All-American boys game August 28 at the Polo grounds in New York.

Of the first 2,000,000 men examined under Selective Service, 41,000 were rejected because of ear defects.

TIGERS DIVIDE WITH CHICAGO; BROWNS DROP 2

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

If Steve O'Neill doesn't see Chicago again until World Series time it will be okay by the gentleman from the hard coal section of Minnooka, Pa.

O'Neill's Detroit Tigers took a safe, if not comfortably plump, five-game lead into Comiskey park last Friday afternoon and limped out last night thankful for a half-game shadow over onrushing Washington.

The White Sox hardly can be called Detroit's jinx team for the two clubs have split exactly even in 20 games with two to go. But, next to Boston, Jimmy Dykes' gang has been the roughest on the Tiger cats.

The Tigers finally pulled one out of the unfortunate (for Detroit) series by whipping Ed Lopat in the opener of yesterday's doubleheader, 6-2, but succumbed to the dark-ball special of the veteran Johnny Humphries in the afterpiece, 7-0. It was Humphries' best pitched game of the year and his first shutout.

Al Benton earned his 11th victory of the season in the first tilt, strengthening his position as top average hurler in the circuit but Zeb Eaton was unequal to the job in the second.

Dykes threatened to protest the opener after he and Coach Mule Haas had been banished by Umpire Bill Grieve in an argument over a play at second base when the ump called a Detroit runner safe.

St. Louis just about dropped out of the picture by bowing twice to Cleveland, 9-7 and 8-4 in a two-night doubleheader, falling 8½ lengths behind first place.

Buried in seventh position, Luke Sewell's Browns fudged themselves faced with a tough struggle to make the first division grade. A year ago they were lengthening out a firm lead and never had been lower than third.

The scheduled Brooklyn at Boston and St. Louis at Pittsburgh tilts in the National were rained out and all other clubs in both leagues had regular offdays.

Largest Field For Hambletonian Race

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 7 (AP)—The largest field in recent years is expected to start in the Hambletonian tomorrow when the rich stake for three year old trotters is renewed over Good Time park's triangular track.

The names of 15 or more of the nation's best, led by unbeaten Titan Hanover, are slated to be dropped into the entry box by 11 a. m., Eastern War Time, today. If as many as 15 face started Steve Phillips at 3 p. m., for the first two-out-of-three mile heats, the race will be worth in the neighborhood of $48,000. Not since the Marchioness won the major share of $53,339 in 1932 has the buggy whip Derby been of such great value.

Topping today's opening card of the three day grand circuit are the $5,000 Arthur S. Tompkins memorial for two year old trotters with 15 starters and the Geers stake for two year old pacers with eight nominees.
